SETH MARTIN AWARDED FIRST PRIZE IN FINAL EXHIBIT OF PAINTINGS

At the evening meeting of June first the winners of the four prizes which are to be awarded annually at the Final Exhibition of student art work at Governor Dummer Academy were announced.

Seth R. Martin of Worcester won the first prize of $20.00 for his oil painting entitled "Across the Pike." "Winter Sky" won second prize of $10.00 for James S. Smith, Jr., of Lexington, and A. Harmon Hall received an Honorable Mention for his painting entitled "Cedars." Edward Rayher of New York City won the Block Printing Prize of $5.00 for his print "To Niag'ra in a Sleeper". David C. Tatman of Connersville, Indiana, won the $5.00 drawing prize for his picture "Pumping." All four pictures become the permanent possessions of Governor Dummer Academy.

The Hanging Committee, composed of two members of the faculty, selected 71 pictures that were submitted by the students. From these the three judges, Mr. Francis H. Richardson, N.A., Mr. Aldro T. Hibbard, N.A., and Mr. Charles H. Sawyer, Curator of the Addison Gallery at Andover, selected the winners after deliberating for two hours. Mr. Richardson announced the winners at the school meeting, following which the winners met the judges. Both Mr. Richardson and Mr. Hibbard have loaned an exhibition of their own pictures to the school during the spring term.

The exhibition is a most unusual one—so large that it covers all the wall space in both the school dining room and the Noyes Memorial Library. Included one finds oil paintings, water colors, block prints, drawings in pen, pencil, and crayon, and a display of photographs taken by the members of the newly-organized Camera Club.

The Final Exhibition is the outgrowth of a course in Sketching which has been introduced into the curriculum for the first time this year. Although art work in public schools and girls' schools has been established for many years, and although some art work has been done in private secondary schools for boys, it is felt that the work being done by the boys at Governor Dummer, and the method of teaching being used, may become a small part of secondary school history.

DR. ROWE, DR. VINCENT AND CARROLL PERRY TO SPEAK AT ALUMNI DINNER

The annual Alumni Dinner will be held this evening in a large tent erected on Morse Field for the purpose. The dinner has become increasingly popular among the parents, the alumni, and other friends of the school; and the tent has been secured this year to make it possible to urge all parents, friends, and guests to join the students and alumni.

The Reverend Carroll Perry of the Board of Trustees will act as toastmaster. Dr. Allan Winter Rowe, director of the Evans Memorial Hospital, and President of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Alumni Association will be one of the speakers. Those who heard him at the Christmas Dinner will need no other incentive to attend the dinner tonight. The other speaker will be Dr. George Vincent, ex-President of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Mr. Wallace Adams' choir, which has made such a contribution to the program in other years, will again present a program of old-fashioned music. About five hundred guests are expected to attend.

MILESTONE DEDICATION AND SENIOR GIFT ANNOUNCED AT ANNUAL SENIOR SING

The annual Senior Sing was held last night on Sunset Hill. The seniors, as is customary, were in charge of the program. They were seated in a semicircle with the rest of the school and the guests facing them.

Calvin P. Eldred, 3rd, President of the graduating class, announced the annual senior gift on this occasion. This year the gift was a sum of money for the purpose of installing a new clock and bell-ringing system to replace the one which has been in use so long. Thomas N. Willins, Jr., Editor-in-Chief of The Milestone, announced that this year's book is dedicated to the late Fred Ellsworth Smith of Newburyport, valued member of the Board of Trustees and loyal friend of the school. Copies of the yearbook were distributed to the seniors at the sing.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the graduating class marched off the hill singing the Senior Song. Afterwards they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Eames at the Mansion House.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE

Dr. William G. Thayer, Headmaster Emeritus of St. Mark's School, delivered the Baccalaureate address at the annual service at Adelynrood Chapel on Sunday afternoon, June fourth. He chose his text from the thirtieth verse of the thirteenth chapter of Numbers; "And Caleb stilled the people before Moses and said, 'Let us go up at once, and possess it, for we are well able to overcome it.'"

Dr. Thayer explained that the occasion was the return of the spies who had been sent to investigate the promised land and who reported that it was indeed a land of milk and honey but that it was inhabited by giants. Some of the Israelites were appalled and feared to lay claim to the land which God had promised them. Then it was that Caleb spoke up, confident of their ability to possess their own. Dr. Thayer said that Governor Dummer had been founded a hundred and seventy years ago when the land was in dispute between France and England, and that its founders had twice fought to possess the land.

He went on to say that in a different way Caleb's advice is still applicable, and especially for the graduates of such schools as Governor Dummer. For the world, he said, is in the throes of a revolution. The outcome of that revolution will be determined by the leadership of the boys now being prepared to play their parts in the world. He therefore advised the graduates to prepare themselves to enter politics, — not in the present sense of the word, but in the original Greek sense of active citizenship.

EXETER MASTERS GIVE INFORMAL RECITAL OF
GILBERT AND SULLIVAN

On Saturday evening, June third, the school had an unusual entertainment when Mr. Edward Scott and Mr. Arthur Landers of the Phillips Exeter faculty gave an informal recital of the works of Gilbert and Sullivan. Mr. Scott first discussed the share that each of the two men had in making their partnership perhaps the most famous in the history of England. He explained that Sir William Gilbert's real profession was the law, and that his nonsense verse was merely a hobby which became important only when his collaboration with Sir Arthur Sullivan gave him the opportunity to satirize the pompous Italian operas and to burlesque many other institutions which had long been taken seriously by his countrymen. Sullivan, the son of a band-master, is said to have been able to play every instrument in the orchestra by the time he was ten years old. Although Mr. Scott refused to certify the accuracy of that statement, he said that it was apparent that Sullivan knew just what each instrument is capable of, and also just what kind of music is most suitable for each type of voice. When he was given a song to set to music, he made full use of his knowledge by writing music which best brought out the voice of the singer and also the spirit of the song. As an example he sang Lord Mount Aararat's song from Iolanthe, in which a member of the House of Lords pompously praises that institution for exactly the things for which the rest of the nation was accustomed to blame it. For this number Sullivan chose a stirring patriotic tune which emphasizes the incongruity of the situation.

Mr. Scott said that the difficult task of writing music to fit both the words and the situation was apparently a delight to Sullivan. He sang a number of selections from The Pirates of Penzance, The Mikado, Trial by Jury, H. M. S. Pinafore, and Iolanthe to illustrate his remarks. The numbers which were most popular with the students were The Nightmare Song from Iolanthe, the Lord High Executioner's Song from The Mikado, the Major-General's song from The Pirates of Penzance, and the Sentry's song from the same opera.

On a number of choruses from H. M. S. Pinafore the whole school joined with Mr. Scott and the Glee Club, and the Club later sang the "Entrance and March of Peers" from Iolanthe.

FRANK W. BENSON ADDS
TWELVE ETCHINGS TO HIS EARLIER GIFT

Mr. Frank W. Benson of Ipswich has made two very valuable gifts to the Academy this year. His first gift, announced in the last issue of The Archon, was a group of two etchings and a drypoint from the exhibition of his work

ALBERT ELLSWORTH PENNOCK

Winner of the Master's Prize presented by Mrs. Edward A. Eames of Buffalo and awarded to the member of the graduating class "who by his unselfishness and sportsmanship has best exemplified the spirit of the school." He is the son of Mrs. Charles E. Pennock of Syracuse, New York.

which was shown here from May first to May seventeenth. These are "Portrait," "Dory Fisherman," and "Over Currituck Marshes."

More recently he has added to his earlier gift a group of twelve etchings and drypoints by other artists. The following paragraphs from his letter to Mr. Morey Eames will explain his generous purpose in making his second gift.

"May 10, 1933.

"Dear Mr. Eames,

"I find I have a lot of etchings some of which I have bought, others have been given me by the men who made them. I value them for they are all by good men but I keep them in a portfolio and do not often see them. When I came back from my visit to you yesterday I decided they would do more good if I gave them to you for the school, so that, if the etching process should interest any of the boys at any time they may have a few prints for study.

"The two little Hollars, part of a Series known as 'The Muffs' were made in the 17th century. These were found in Roland Boyden's desk after he died and very likely had been given him in Europe. His sister gave them to me and I take pleasure in handing them over to you."

The twelve items mentioned in his letter include the following:

1. Robert Lawson, a print of the mythological Pegasus being shod by a playful group of gnomes.

2. H. A. Webster, a street scene, probably in Europe.

3. E. S. Lumsden, "The Spanish Road, 1923," inscribed "to F. B. 1924."

4. Seymour Hayden, "Bit of River Bank, a Sketch from Nature, 1st printing." Sir F. Seymour Hayden, P.R.E., was a contemporary and close friend of James McNeill Whistler and he inaugurated the Society of Painter-Etchers.

5. J. H. Clifford, a group of carnations in a vase with a strong light behind and below the table, inscribed "J. H. Clifford, New Bedford."

6. W. Hollar, a muff and a neckpiece lying on a table, engraved on the plate "W. Hollar fecit 1645." There are probably only four or five of this series extant.

7. W. Hollar, muff with a band of beaded velvet around the middle of it lying on a table, engraved on the plate "W. Hollar fecit 1647."

8. Sears Gallagher, a work bench with a man standing beside it.

9. Sears Gallagher, a man fishing from a small bridge.

10. Arthur W. Heintzelman, "Sketch," an old person's head.

11. J. W. Winkler, a view of the San Francisco Harbor, inscribed "To Mr. Frank W. Benson, September, 1921."

12. Haydon Jones, "Portrait of Franklin T. Wood." This is probably Jones' first etching.

THE COMMENCEMENT COMMITTEE

This Committee Assists Mr. Eames in Planning the Events of the Commencement Program.

MILESTONE DANCE HELD AT OULD NEWBURY CLUB

The spring term dance, known as "The Milestone Dance" because the proceeds are used to help in the publication of the school annual, was held at the clubhouse of the Ould Newbury Golf Club on Saturday night, May 27. Jacob Bond and his committee had decorated the clubhouse with a collection of interesting old guns and weapons, largely furnished by Nathaniel Sanders. They had also prepared a lighted and decorated retreat on the eighth tee, just west of the clubhouse.

In other ways also the dance was a departure from the usual procedure. It was informal and the students wore white flannels or white linen suits. After dinner in the school dining room and coffee at the Mansion House, the boys and their guests were driven to the clubhouse by members of the committee and of the faculty.

Jack Marshard of Boston and his orchestra played for dancing from eight until twelve, with a short intermission for refreshments at ten-thirty. A number of over-night guests were entertained at Perkins by Mrs. Osborn P. Nash.

MR. ARTHUR PERRY OF MILTON ACADEMY ADDRESSES VESPERS

Mr. Arthur Perry, Head of the English Department at Milton Academy, was the Vespers speaker on May 28. He is the son of Bliss Perry of Harvard and a nephew of the Reverend Carroll Perry of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Perry stressed the value of a completely developed mind. He said that many men have spent their lives doing some one thing to perfection, but in so doing have lost the power of enjoying life. He read a passage from Wordsworth's Ode on Intimations of Immortality in which the poet expresses his regret that the cares and responsibilities of life rob the maturing person of that kinship with nature which is his heritage in childhood. To avoid a similar loss, Mr. Perry advised the student to develop some interest other than his profession, preferably one which keeps alive his sense of beauty.

Mr. Perry also quoted a facetious solution to the problem of balancing the national budget. In it the humorist suggested that people be taxed only for their moments of ecstasy. He confessed that he should have been taxed four dollars during the week. His four moments of ecstasy proved to be relatively simple. One had come to him while listening to music; another when he looked down a valley and saw the trees in their new foliage. The humorist was right, Mr. Perry said; for such moments are the only ones when we really live.

GLEE CLUB BANQUET FOLLOWS CONCERT AND BROADCAST AT PORTLAND

On Friday, May 19, the Governor Dummer Glee Club enjoyed its annual trip to Portland to broadcast from station WCSH. The members of the club made the trip by bus and in private cars, arriving at Portland about four o'clock.

A large number of guests attended the reception and rehearsal at the Eastland Hotel preceding the broadcast. Mrs. Franklin Lawrence, Mrs. Spalding Bisbee, Mrs. William Rines, and Mrs. Rupert Neily poured at the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sager, Mr. and Mrs. William Jacob, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dunning, Mr. Benjamin Stone, and Mr. Richard Hearn of the faculty assisted the Headmaster and Mrs. Eames in welcoming the guests. At the informal rehearsal many of the guests expressed their admiration of the finished way in which the club performed.

The broadcast began at six-thirty and lasted for thirty minutes, allowing the club time to sing most of the numbers which have made up their program during the year. Henry Graves, the club soloist, sang two numbers.

After the broadcast the club enjoyed the annual banquet at the Eastland. Mr. Sager read a number of telegrams, some real and some facetious, which were delivered to him during the meal. A quintet composed of Chester Ingraham, Richard Segler, James Smith, Louis Sumner, and Paul Rutherford sang Sweet Sue, Hand Me Down My Walking Cane, and other numbers. At the conclusion of the banquet the members of the club departed immediately for South Byfield, arriving at eleven.

GOVERNORS FACE BROOKS
IN COMMENCEMENT GAME

This afternoon on Morse Field the Governors will close the baseball season with the Brooks School team from North Andover. It was originally planned to invite a team composed of recent graduates to play the Commencement game, but it was found that too many of them were either members of college teams which were playing on that date or were taking examinations.

With Gill in the box and Zigmund Rogers behind the plate, the Governors should make a strong bid for a victory to close the season, since their hitting and their fielding have improved considerably in recent games.

ANDREW RYDER LINSOTT

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Linscott of Swampscott and winner of the Thorndike Hilton Cup, presented by the class of 1921 in memory of their classmate and awarded to the ranking student of the graduating class.

TWO NEW NUMBERS USED AT BENEFIT CONCERT AT IPSWICH

On Friday, May 26, the Glee Club gave a concert at the Town Hall, Ipswich for the benefit of the Cable Memorial Hospital. Mr. Sumner Nichols of Ipswich assisted by giving two very interesting monologues, one from Green Pastures and the other a chapter from Buckley's Love Conquers All. Both were highly entertaining and were well received by the audience.

The club sang the usual numbers and in addition two new ones which will be used at the Commencement Concert today. They were Away to Rio, and The Song of the Camel Drivers. Both were highly successful additions to the usual program.

MASTER'S PRIZE AND MORSE

FLAG GO TO ALBERT PENNOCK
AND TO CALVIN P. ELDRED

Following the custom of last year The Archon is printing below the speech in which the Headmaster makes the award of prizes. Particularly in the case of the special prizes, where the occasion for awarding them varies with the student, the exact wording of the award seems to be of more importance than the bare fact that the boy won a prize.

"It is a great pleasure to welcome you all to these one hundred and seventieth Commencement Exercises of Governor Dummer Academy. I hope you will consult the program cards which were inclosed with the folded sheets in your hands, and that you will all plan to stay for as many of the Exercises as possible, including both the Luncheon and the Dinner. I should also like to announce that the Final Prize Exhibition of work done by the boys in the new Sketching Class will be on view in the Commons building and in the Noyes Memorial Library throughout the day.

"I think it is interesting to recall that just one year ago this morning, and upon this very occasion, I called attention to the fact that we were graduating the largest class of boys which had ever graduated from Governor Dummer. There were thirty-three boys in that class. This morning we have assembled to celebrate the graduation of a senior class of forty-one boys, and I shall merely repeat this morning what I said one year ago, that 'I think it is interesting that in times like these, the oldest boarding school in America should be graduating the largest class in its history.'

"It is my duty this morning to award the various prizes for the school year. I have been looking over the list of boys who are receiving prizes, and I have been reviewing the various accomplishments for which these prizes are offered each year. I am impressed by this fact:— There is really only one kind of boy who can have a prize, and there is really only one thing for which a prize can be given; for there is really only one thing which matters, whether one is a schoolboy, or whether one is that boy's parent, or even his teacher. I think that the boys who are to come forward this morning to receive prizes, whether in the form of silver loving cups or books or diplomas,—I think that these boys have found out what is important in life, and what is not. And I think they have found out that all the really important things such as truth and beauty, courage and sympathy, are only different names for the same thing.

"The first prize, the gift of an alumnus of the school, is awarded annually for the best record in track and field athletics. To Charles Ernest Reiche, of Bristol, Connecticut.

"The Dalton Hamor Prize, the gift of the class of 1921, is awarded annually to the best baseball player on the school team. The prize is this year awarded to the brilliant short stop and captain, Otis Russell Kerr, of South Manchester, Connecticut.

"The Goodwin Athletic Prize, is given by Mr. Fred H. Goodwin of New York, trustee of the Academy, and a member of the Class of 1916. It is awarded for the best all-round athletic record of the year. This prize is awarded to a boy whose physical strength and skill is outstanding and to a boy whose qualities of character and gentlemanliness have won for him the admiration of us all. To John Otto Frank, of New Britain, Connecticut.

"The Moody Kent Prizes are among the oldest prizes given by the Academy. They are six prizes given annually for the highest standing in each department of study:—

1. The prize for the highest stand in English is awarded to Thomas Nelson

STEPHEN DAY WARD

Awarded a special prize as one "who in one school year has won the warm affection and high respect of boys and masters." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Ward of Hingham.

Willins, Jr., of Montclair, New Jersey, a boy who besides winning distinction in scholarship has served this year as manager of two important student activities and as editor-in-chief of the only two student publications, The Archon and The Milestone.

2. The prize for the highest stand in Modern Languages is awarded to Everett Austin Black, of Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

3. The prize for the highest stand in History is awarded to Parker Abbott Kitchell, of South Byfield.

4. The prize for the highest stand in the Classics is awarded to Paul Dillingham, of Falmouth.

5. The prize for the highest stand in Science is awarded to Robert Drew King, of Kissimmee, Florida.

6. The prize for the highest stand in Mathematics is awarded to Randolph F. Tucker, Jr., of Wenham.

"We have this year a special prize to be awarded for meritorious work in English, a volume of Thackeray, which Judge White brought back from his visit to London last summer, and which he wished to be presented on this occasion. The prize is awarded to a boy of unusual appreciation and creative ability in the field of English literature. To Wentworth Smith, of Lexington.

"The final award for purely scholastic achievement is the Thorndike Hilton Cup, which was given by the class of 1919 in memory of their classmate and friend. Each year the name of the ranking scholar of the senior class is engraved upon the cup, and this year the name is that of Andrew Ryder Linscott, of Swampscott.

"The Ambrose Prizes were given by the late Fred M. Ambrose, member of the class of 1876, and former trustee of the Academy. The annual Ambrose Prize Speaking Contest was held yesterday afternoon in the Lang Gymnasium as part of the Commencement program.

(The Judges' decision was not announced in time to include the names of the three winners in this issue of The Archon. Ed.)

"We have this year instituted informal classes in drawing and painting, and the School will now award, probably for the first time in her history, four cash prizes for work in the graphic arts.

"The first prize is awarded for the best oil painting, water color or pastel painted during the school year by a student. To Seth Martin, of Worcester.

"The second prize is awarded for the second best painting of the year. To James Stuart Smith, Jr., of Lexington.

"A third prize is awarded for the best block print made during the year. To Edward Rayher, of New York City.

"The final prize is awarded for the best line drawing of the year. To David Conner Tatman, of Connersville, Indiana.

"I want now to award special prizes to a short list of boys who merit special recognition on this Commencement Day. As has been said before, it is not always possible to find the boy to fit the prize, but it is always possible, and seems to me often highly desirable, to award a prize to a deserving boy. Here then are the boys who are considered to have earned special merit during the year now closing.

"To Harry Coburn Churchill, of Lowell, Dana Carroll Douglass, of Portland, Maine, and Richard Leonard Segler, of Portland, Maine, a group of three boys who are distinguished among their fellows, not only for certain manly qualities of strength, courage and capacity for work, but equally for such gentlemanly attributes as courtesy, good cheer and instant generosity.

"To Justin Mackenzie Smith, of Leominster, always a pleasant and agreeable boy, who during his senior year discovered new qualities of force and determination which enabled him to improve the standard of his scholastic work.

"To James Albert Hessian, of Forest Hills, New York, who during his five years association with the School has always striven loyally and successfully for her best interests.

"To Gilmore Lloyd Farr, of Holyoke and John Wilson Hosmer, of Sharon, who have during their school course improved in attitude, industry and self-control more than any other members of their class.

"To Stephen Day Ward, of Hingham, a boy who in one school year has won the warm affection and high respect of boys and masters.

"To David Conner Tatman, of Connersville, Indiana, a boy of splendid scholarship, pleasant personality and wide cultural interest, who after living three years in a boys' boarding school has nevertheless succeeded in keeping a genuine and refreshing individuality.

"To George Henry Tryon, 3rd, of South Orange, New Jersey, whose hard work and high scholarship commands our respect, and whose initiative and enthusiasm have this year created a new and worthwhile student organization.

"To William Crain Bauer, of Springfield, who is distinguished among the under classmen for his good nature, his good sense and his unlimited capacity for friendship.

"To Donald Lawrence, of Portland, Maine, whose leadership among the under-classmen is owing as much to his natural enthusiasm and to his sensitive regard for others as to his all-round abilities.

HARRY COBURN CHURCHILL

Awarded a special prize for "courtesy, good cheer and instant generosity." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Churchill of Lowell.

"There now remain only two prizes to be awarded. These have been reserved for the last, because of the unusual importance attached to them. The first of these final prizes is the Morse Flag. The Reverend Glenn Tilley Morse established a fund for the purchase every year of a new flag to fly from the schoolhouse. He provided further that the old flag, the one which had been in use throughout the year, be given to that member of the graduating class whose record in all respects met with the highest approval of the faculty. Thus, while this prize has little intrinsic worth, it is valued more highly than many of the others.

"The faculty have always been careful to award this prize to a senior of unusually high character and strong leadership, a boy of good scholarship and wide interests. Last year the prize was awarded to Terry Staples, and probably to mention Terry's name is the best way to describe the prize to the boys here in school.

"The prize is this year awarded to Calvin Powell Eldred, 3rd, of Dedham, honor student, athlete and President of the class of 1933.

"The final award is the Master's Prize. There is little difference between the purpose of this award and the Morse Flag. It is to be given to that 'member of the graduating class who by his unselfishness and sportsmanship has best exemplified the spirit of the school.' It is to be given this year to Albert Ellsworth Pennock, of Syracuse, New York.

"It is perhaps remarkable that this is the first time in recent years that either the Morse Flag or the Master's Prize has been awarded to a boy who was distinguished neither in scholarship nor in athletics, but whose qualities of personality and character alone deserve reward. It is difficult for me to tell you in more detail about these boys I know so well, and for whom I care so much. All I can say, all that Mrs. Eames and I and the masters can say, to Albert and to Cal Eldred, and to Lou and Jim and Tommy and the rest of the boys who are graduating today is—Good-bye, good luck, and may all the prizes of Life be yours! The Master's Prize—to Albert Pennock."

MR. GEORGE CARY SPEAKS ON MEANING OF HYMNS AT FINAL VESPERS SERVICE

The Reverend George E. Cary of Bradford delivered the last Vespers address of the year on Sunday evening, June fourth. He asked the students to think for a few moments of the hymns that they had been singing week after week, explaining that not enough significance is usually attached to the circumstances under which they were written. Most of them, he said, have been written by men, and by men who sought to express their emotions under trying circumstances.

Among the examples Mr. Cary used was the hymn, O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee by Washington Gladden. The writer, Mr. Cary said, was considered a radical, almost a heretic. The other ministers in the city where he lived refused to associate with him. If they saw him coming down the street, they crossed over to avoid walking with him. He wrote his poem, beginning "O Master let me walk with Thee" to express the loneliness of his life. Later, when others wished to set it to music, he consented only on condition that they omit one verse which seemed to him to be too bitter.

SKETCHING CLASS AND CAMERA CLUB VISIT GLOUCESTER

Sunday afternoon, May 21, the Sketching Class and the Camera Club joined forces for a most successful trip to Gloucester.

The fourteen boys who left school shortly after dinner found the Gloucester harbor filled with all the ocean craft that make the old town one of the most picturesque on the New England coast line. Soon the boys had a battery of cameras trained on the harbor from all sorts of angles; shutters were even heard clicking from the tops of the tallest ships and down in the holds.

Many boys had brought along their pencils or paint boxes, and the sketches that were turned out were numerous and highly successful. These boys found that there were several other artists who were profiting by the scenes in the busy harbor.

A highlight of the afternoon was the arrival of the Gertrude L. Thebaud at the dock where most of the boys were working. This ship is the one that won the historic race last summer against the Canadian Bluenose, and this spring made the epic trip to Washington where the crew conferred with President Roosevelt about the fishing industry.

GOVERNORS BEATEN IN DUAL MEET AT MELROSE

On Saturday, June third, the Governors lost a dual meet to the Melrose High School team, forty-seven and two-thirds to twenty-nine and one-third. Charles Reiche was easily the star of the meet, accounting for seventeen points with first places in the broad jump and the high jump, seconds in the hundred and the two-twenty, and a third in the shot-put. Roger Wood won his letter with a first place in the shot-put, and John Dunton won his with a first in the quarter-mile run. The Governors' other points were won by Harry Churchill with a third in the mile, Nathaniel Sanders with a third in the eight-eighty, and Harmon Hall, who was in a triple tie for third in the high jump.

Although the Governors won firsts in half the events, they failed to take enough seconds and thirds to break even; and when Melrose took the relay race, they had a substantial lead. Edward Rayher, Roger Wood, Jose In-clan, and John Dunton ran the relay for the Governors.

GOVERNORS HIT HARD TO DEFEAT HUNTINGTON TEAM

On Saturday, May 20, the Governors defeated the Huntington School of Boston in a game marked by much heavy hitting by both teams. Captain Kerr and Roland Gill hit home runs, as did Roger Whitmore of the visitors.

Huntington scored two runs in the first inning, but the Governors retaliated with four. Captain Kerr opened the Governors' half of this inning by hitting the first ball pitched for a home run over the left field bank. The visiting team scored three more runs in a ninth-inning rally. The Governors, however, had scored four more runs in the fourth inning, and made their other five runs in various innings.

Huntington was forced to use four pitchers to hold the heavy-hitting Governors, while Roland Gill went the entire distance, striking out eleven opponents.

BAD FIRST INNING BRINGS DEFEAT BY ANDOVER NINE

On Memorial Day the Governors lost a somewhat one-sided game to Phillips Academy, Andover, by the score of nine to one. Andover gained six of its runs in the first inning, partly as the result of three Texasleaguers and partly because the Governors' infielders were bothered by the unusual fast-ness of the Andover diamond. Captain Reiter pitched for the Andover team, holding the Governors to five scattered hits and striking out eleven. Roland Gill, pitching for the Governors, was hit pretty freely and allowed a number of walks. Spencer Curry relieved him in the last innings. His change of pace worried the Andover hitters considerably.

Except for the first inning and the fourth, when another rally netted the home team three runs, the game was exceedingly close. The Governors' lone tally came in the third inning. Captain Kerr singled to left field, went to third when the Andover infield mishandled Louis Sumner's fine bunt down the base-line, and scored when the Andover first-baseman dropped a toss from the pitcher.

From the Governors' point-of-view the redeeming feature of the game was the way in which the team pulled itself together after the disastrous first inning.

GOVERNORS LOSE FAST GAME TO THE MOSES BROWN NINE

On Saturday, June third, the Moses Brown team defeated the Governors in a fast, closely-contested game on Morse Field. The final score of 7-5 was not established until the final inning. Earlier in the game the Governors had enjoyed a one run lead.

Spencer Curry started for the Governors but was hit hard for two runs in the first. In the second Zigmund Rogers relieved Curry and also allowed the visitors two runs, largely on passes. The Governors picked up one run in the third and then netted four more in a fifth inning rally. Captain Kerr singled and scored on Jose Beola's double. Rogers and Minot Shaw both profited by errors in the Moses Brown infield. John Hinchman's sacrifice advanced them to second and third, and both came home when the Moses Brown short-stop fielded Perry Reynolds' grounder and made an overthrow at first.

The visitors tied the score in the seventh. Their other two were made in the ninth by Ostrom and Young. Both singled and gained second and third on Mitchell's sacrifice. A pinch-hitter then laid down a perfect bunt, scoring both.

SECOND TEAM TIED BY THE MANNING SCHOOL FRESHMEN

The second team, coached by Mr. Reagan, played their second game of the season on Thursday afternoon, May 18, against the freshman team of the Manning High School of Ipswich. This game, like the earlier one with the Amesbury freshmen, was played on Morse Field and resulted in a tie score, this time 6-6.

Spencer Curry starred on the mound for the Governors, ably assisted by David Fulton behind the plate. John Hinchman, Garfield Rae, Frederick Ingersoll, and Philip DeWitt constituted the Governors' infield.

In the first two innings the Governors showed to rather poor advantage except for several fine plays at second base. Fulton's throws were extremely fast and accurate, and Rae tagged the Ipswich runners with such clock-like regularity that base stealing was decidedly unprofitable. Ipswich scored three times in the first innings, while the Governors were unable to score until the fourth. At the end of the seventh, however, the score was tied at three each; and an extra inning was agreed on.

The eighth opened badly for the Governors, Ipswich scoring three more runs and apparently clinching the game. But the Governors came back in their half with runs by Fulton, Hinchman, and DeWitt to tie the score again.

SENIORS ENJOY ANNUAL PICNIC AT PLUM ISLAND

On Thursday afternoon, June first, the members of the graduating class went to Plum Island for the annual picnic given the class by Mr. and Mrs. Eames. Fortunately a warm spring day made it possible to enjoy a dip in the surf after the baseball game on the beach.

At supper there was chicken salad as well as frankforters roasted over an open fire on the beach. Hot coffee and ginger ale were served. The class left the island in time to return to school for the evening study hall.

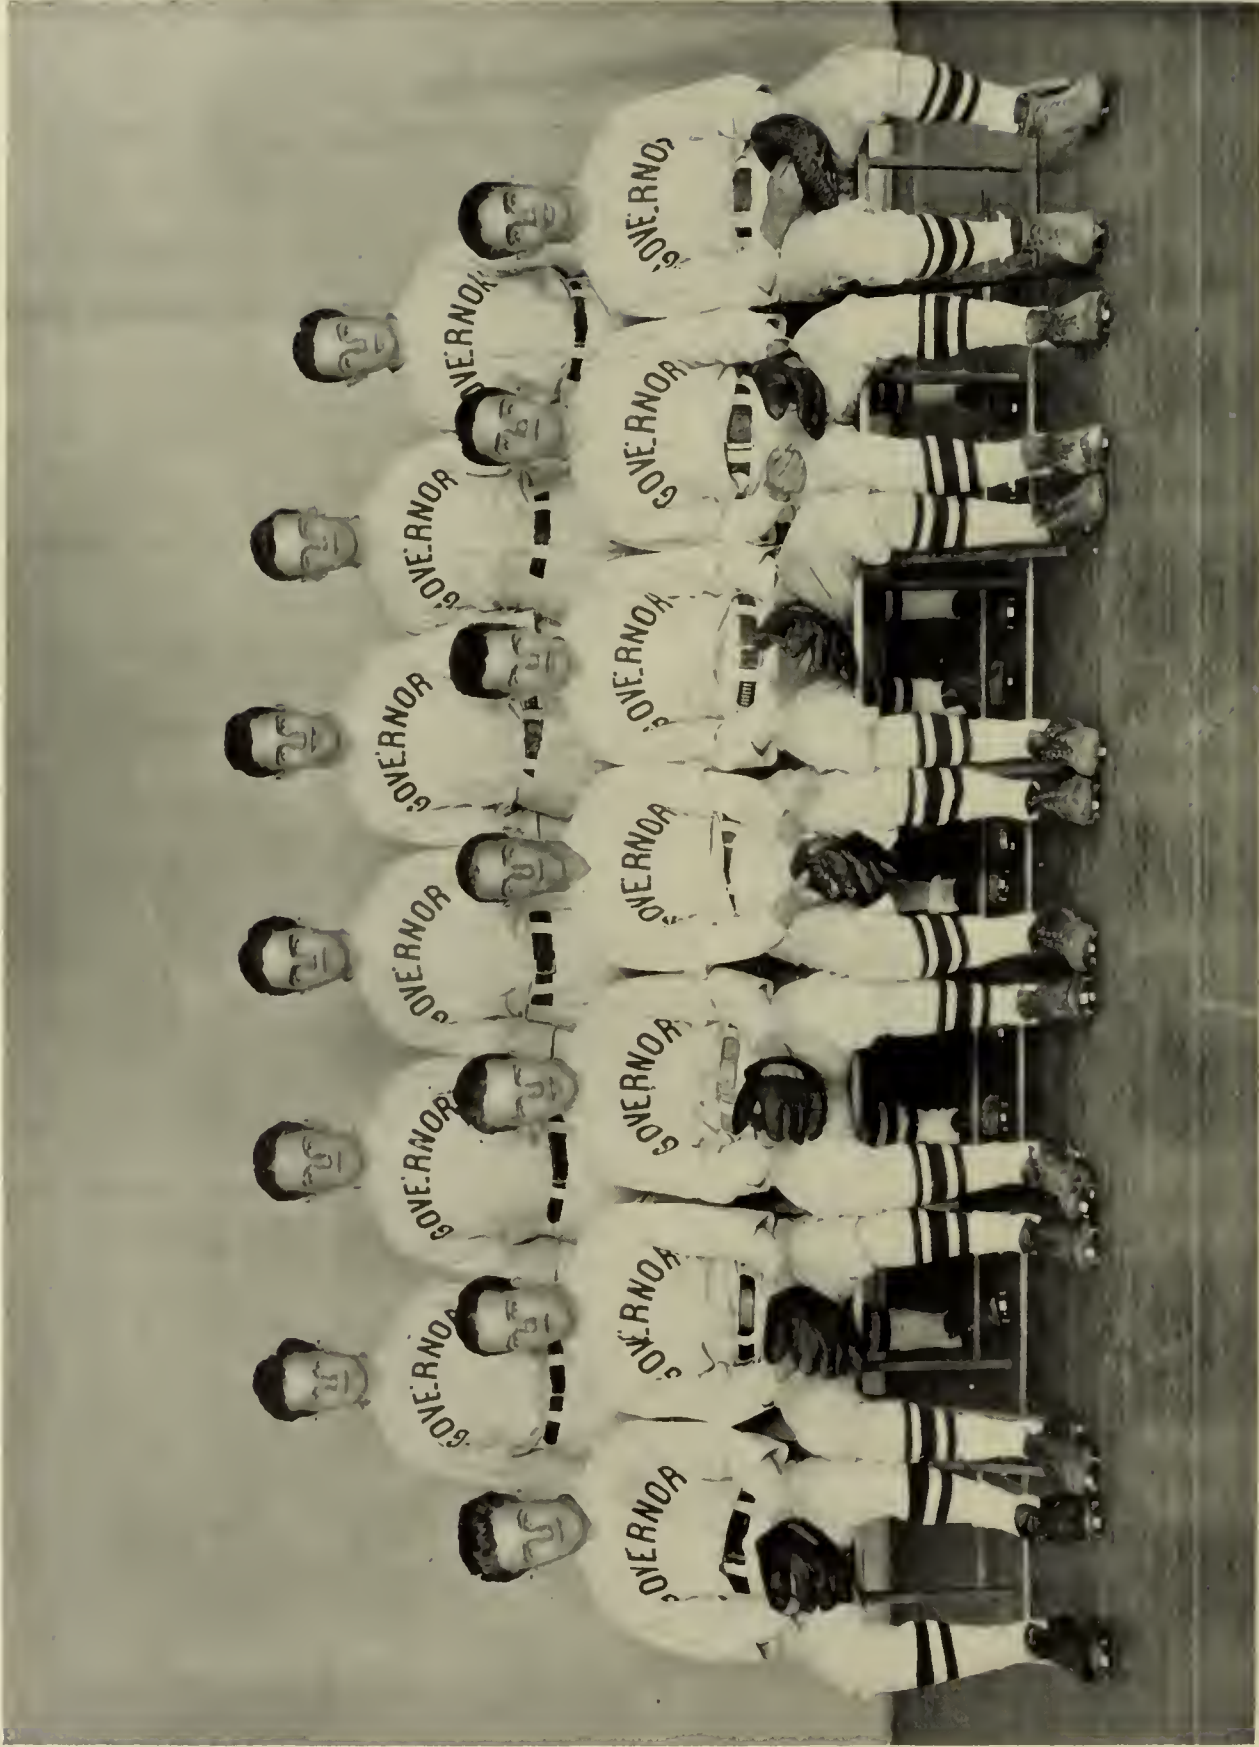

MR. ROGER BENNETT SPEAKS ON THE SPIRIT OF SACRIFICE

On Sunday, May 21, the Vesper speaker was the Reverend Roger Bennett, formerly Chaplain of St. George's and shortly to be Chaplain of St. Mark's. The theme of his talk was that sacrifice is required of those who would be known as Christians, even as Christ himself advised his disciples, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me."

Illustrating his statement that this spirit of sacrifice is needed in all walks of life, Mr. Bennett told of a ball player who came to bat with two on and one out. Known as a heavy hitter, the player naturally wished to justify the fans' hopes of him by smashing out an extra-base hit. Instead he was told to bunt. Although it went against the grain to do so, he followed instructions; and two of his teammates scored on the squeeze play.

GOVERNORS WIN GOLF MATCH FROM MEMBERS OF OULD NEWBURY CLUB

On May 27 the entire golf squad participated in a match with the members of the Ould Newbury Golf Club, on whose course the Academy team practises and plays. The match was arranged to promote the feeling of friendliness which exists between the club and the school and also to give those boys who had not played in earlier matches a chance to compete. Sixteen matches were accordingly scheduled, although two of the members of the club found it impossible to compete. The Governors' number one and number three men, Louis Wyman and Calvin Eldred, were defeated by Mr. Ray Abbe and Dr. Paul Titus, respectively. All the rest of the matches were won by the Governors.

THE 1933 BASEBALL TEAM

TENNIS TEAM BEATEN BY RIVERS AND MOSES BROWN

In their final matches the Governor Dummer tennis players were defeated by Rivers and by Moses Brown. The Rivers meet was played at Brookline on Saturday, May 27, and resulted in a 4-1 victory for the Rivers team. Although the Governors were unable to win, every set was so close that it was difficult to realize that the team was being beaten. Captain John Hosmer won his first set, lost his second, and carried his opponent to 12-10 before losing the match. Edward Underwood, playing number one, lost, 6-1, 6-2. Herbert Badger earned the Governors' only point when he took his match, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Hosmer and Underwood, and Badger and Justin Smith lost the two doubles matches.

The Moses Brown match was played on the Governors' courts on Saturday, June third, resulting in a 5-0 victory for the visitors. The Governors played in good form.

Captain John Hosmer and Justin Smith graduate today; but Edward Underwood, Herbert Badger, Sturgis White, and Mario Fernandez will return next fall as a nucleus for the 1934 team.

THERE'S A REASON

TENNIS TOURNAMENT IS NOW IN FINAL ROUND

The annual tennis tournament had reached the final round at the time The Archon went to press. In the singles division John Hosmer and Edward Underwood compete in the finals.

In the doubles division John Hosmer and Mario Fernandez defeated Seth Martin and Dana Douglass, 6-0, 8-6 in the finals played Wednesday afternoon. They, with the winner of the singles championship, receive the medals donated by the Reverend Glenn Tilley Morse at the awards meeting on Thursday afternoon.

JUNIOR NINE WINS FROM NORTH SHORE COUNTRY DAY

On Thursday, May 25, the juniors made a strong come-back after their last game by defeating the North Shore Country Day School team at Beverly, 18-10. The first two and the last innings were particularly interesting. Whenever the Governors gained a lead, the North Shore players quickly wiped it out. In the third inning, however, Olaf Olsen settled down to really fine pitching and held the home team until the ninth, when another rally netted them four more runs.

STRONACH WINS ANNUAL
HANDICAP GOLF TROPHY

Irving Stronach defeated Justin Smith, two up, to capture the trophy donated by Mr. Edward Underwood for the annual handicap golf tournament. Stronach had defeated Albert Hessian, William Bauer and Harvey Kelly to make his way to the finals. Justin Smith drew a bye in the first round, defeated Dana Douglass in the second, John Hosmer in the third, and Irving Whiting in the semi-finals.

In the beaten-eight tournament Baird Hodgkinson reached the finals by defeating Alfred Sweet in the first round and by a default in the second. Paul Rutherford drew a bye in the first and defeated Russell Patton in the second.

GOVERNORS AT M. I. T.

As his letter explains, Weldon Ray's letter did not reach the editor in time to permit the inclusion of the information about himself and the other boys at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the last issue.

"I am sorry if this information does not reach you in good season, but it took me some time to get hold of Otto Thelen and worm from him a few facts about himself.

"I am sorry to say that his brother Rhiny has left school, I believe because of some financial difficulty, but he will be back with us at the beginning of the fall term.

"Otto was a member of the freshman wrestling team, getting his freshman numeral in the sport, and he would have been out for the varsity this fall and winter except for an injured shoulder. Just recently he received his letter in varsity lacrosse.

"As for myself, I made a stab at practically all the sports, in my freshman year going out for basketball, wrestling, and lacrosse, while last fall I received my class numeral with the Sophomore Field Day football team.
